

BORN FREE AND EQUAL

CLICK HERE FOR A VIDEO INTRODUCTION

We invite you to participate in A Family Art Project!

The theme is Born Free and Equal: Community Perspectives
on The United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

How can you participate?

Start by talking as a family about what is meant by human rights. The Mansfield Public Library has a shelf of relevant children's books for you to check out. You can talk about the United Nations Universal Human Rights attached to this document or click here, here or here for different versions of the United Nations Universal Human Rights.

Choose a universal human right that your family would like to illustrate on the tagboard (available at the Mansfield Library). Make a plan and work together using any materials that you have at your house--crayons, paint, tissue paper, fabric, glue.

Share your finished project with Mansfield Library by Friday, August 14th. You can return your artwork to the Mansfield Library or send a photo to: mansfieldlibrary@manfieldct.org. Please complete the submission form attached to this document so we can learn about your process.

Finished artwork will be displayed on lawn signs at the Mansfield Library and perhaps other Mansfield locations.

Project Sponsored by:

BORN FREE AND EQUAL FAMILY ART SUBMISSION FORM

Family Name: _____

We chose universal human right # _____.

In the space below, please write a sentence or two explaining one or more of the following:

- *why you chose the human right that you chose
- *how you created this artwork
- *what you'd like viewers to notice about the artwork

Return with artwork to the Mansfield Library or mansfieldlibrary@mansfieldct.org