

MANSFIELD SCHOOL READINESS COUNCIL

DIRECTORY OF LICENSED EARLY CARE and EDUCATION, HOME CARE and BEFORE and AFTER SCHOOL PROGRAMS in
MANSFIELD, CT

This directory is meant to be used by anyone looking for State-licensed early care and education, home care or before- and after-school programs in Mansfield. Program directors who agreed to participate in this project provided information about their programs to Sandy Baxter, who compiled the directory. Arrangement is by type of child care program -- Early Care & Education Programs, Home Care and Before and After School Programs -- and then alphabetically by name of program or provider.

The information about each program is descriptive only, and not to be interpreted as an endorsement of or recommendation by the Town of Mansfield Social Service Department or the Mansfield School Readiness Council. Every effort has been made to secure information that is accurate as of September 2004.

Special features: Play-based curriculum; parent co-operative; large, creative play yard; relaxed, informal environment, beautiful new facility. Children's natural interest in play forms the basis of the CCC program and philosophy. Through play a child learns what it is to be a friend, to have a friend, to negotiate, compromise and solve problems. Materials like clay, crayons, paint, sand, water and building toys teach children to share, take turns and play together in large and small groups. Play takes place indoors and outdoors, so children learn about the world around them. Letters and numbers are a natural part of the CCC environment. We believe each child establishes an interest in them gradually and individually. The adults' job is to notice, support and encourage each child's interests and development in all areas. We provide a wide range of materials, games, songs and activities.

- Special features: SCNS was established in 1967. Our nursery school provides a stimulating environment with varied materials and equipment available. Children are offered experience with books, music, art, science, social studies, cooking and nutrition, and dance. Art projects encourage self-expression. There is the opportunity for quiet as well as vigorous play and for social experience as the children interact.
- Field trips, short “nature walks,” a weekly creative movement class, and visiting guests add another dimension to the program.
- A balanced program of experiences and activities is planned daily, taking into consideration that the primary objective of the SCNS is the optimum development of each child physically, socially and emotionally.
